Dear Praying Friends,

As we begin to wind down our furlough (just two months to go), we are beginning to look back on what God has done during the past year. We have certainly met some wonderful people along the way, some of which have become life-long friends. It doesn't seem possible that we had never met them before this furlough. We have also added some tremendous churches that will be partnering with us as we return to Puerto Rico on August 1 (yes we already have our tickets)!

Jerry has preached a lot on faith, and God has decided to try ours. Yet He always comes through! As this letter is written, we are still in the "red" in regards to our support. We have actually lost more support than we have gained. The economy and problems in certain churches have put us in a bind. God is trying our faith. Yet, we will not fail! We KNOW He will provide in His own way and in His own time frame! We just anxiously are waiting and watching to see how. It sure is interesting to see how God tries one's faith when instructing others to do the same.

God has also put us in touch with various doctors here in the States that are bending over backwards to help us and on our crazy schedule. We marvel at his protection and provision! What a mighty God we serve!!

Please pray for Liz's dad who is suffering with several health issues. Jerry's step-father was recently in the VA after having suffered a stroke. Both are very proud and think they can manage on their own. Our boys have done an absolutely stupendous job in Puerto Rico in our absence, both in their own lives as well as the church. Nathaniel (22 yrs. old) has three jobs, his own apartment, and is paying off his school bill and hopes to return to the university in August, 2013. Benjamin (20 yrs. old) has taken this semester off (he's under a lot of stress at school, his parents being off-island, and being accustomed to a new pastor who does things differently than his Dad did. He will probably live with us when we go back and return to the university.

When we go back to Puerto Rico, we will help another missionary for a few months while he goes on a furlough, as well as "spy out the land" to find out where God wants us to start our next church. We appreciate your consistent and faithful support and prayers for us. We need them!

When we return to Puerto Rico, we need to buy furniture, appliances, and a reliable car. Please pray about having a part in these expenses, as well as our paying for the plane tickets. Thank you, Thank you, Thank you for partnering with us to see Puerto Rico and the entire world won to Christ!!
